She called him “the son of my heart.” She already had three sons, she did “not need any more children.” Then her heart was touched when she saw a notice in the newspaper asking for help to take care of Julio who had no family of his own. She visited him in the hospital; she took him into her home and adopted him.

A group of Knights of Columbus and their wives have traveled far to share this moment, the moment when Julio received a tool to move with less pain and more freely, when he received his brand new wheelchair, one of many sponsored by the Knights of Saskatchewan.

Everyone present was touched and could not take their eyes off the beaming mother and her exuberant son.

The Global Wheelchair Mission brings together people and organizations, sponsors, recipients and their families. Councils, districts and states work with love and dedication for the common goal of making lives easier for those who have to struggle from day to day. They find kinship with implementing partner organizations such as the National Children's Hospital of Costa Rica.

Thank you to the Knights of Columbus across Canada for transforming tens of thousands of lives. Together, in Unity, anything is possible!
